Group Meditation

New Moon Cycle Seed Thought

April 5, 2008 through May 4, 2008

The unity of aim, the desire to serve, the recognition of the present focused intention of the Hierarchy (under the guidance of the Christ), become an invocative, magnetic state of group consciousness; this evokes from the Christ and His informed Masters an identification of Their united thought with the group aspiration. Externalization of the Hierarchy P. 680

May 5, 2008 through June 3, 2008

The will-to-good of the world knowers is the magnetic seed of the future....The will-to-good is the Father aspect, whilst goodwill is the Mother aspect, and from the relation of these two the new civilization, based on sound spiritual (but utterly different) lines, can be founded. The Rays And The Initiations P. 109-110

Economy Consciousness

“Economy is the organization of the energy, force, and substance of any organized life into that activity which will manifest its purpose and plan. This applies equally to the individual and to the group.” The Disciple and Economy P. 64

As is the case with most of our concepts, the concept of economy has been reduced in its meaning and significance by the form focused materialistic paradigm of self consciousness from a holistic multi-dimensional view of reality to a very narrow band of its actual essence. It has been reduced to a material dimension only. In this materialistic, self conscious paradigm, economy has to do with the acquisition and use of dense physical tangibles such as real estate, minerals, manufactured products, production capacity and so forth and something we call money or coin.

Initially, coin was an actual hunk of some metal or other. As things developed, however, coin which was very cumbersome gradually became a piece of paper which today we call money. Other kinds of documents were invented to represent a quantity of one or more of these dense physical items like corn or cloth or timber or land or whatever.

The Self Conscious Paradigm

In the separative self conscious paradigm, where one is actually identified with one's form or body or property, one's value, indeed one's worth, one's very identity as a being or person, is based on how much of this kind of economy one has secured and locked away in one's personal separative account. The King of a country owned the whole country by divine right of being King. Thus we had individual personalities like Henry VIII and Louie XIV, which was only yesterday in the span of history, referring to themselves as England and France.

Today, the methods of ownership—which is what the delusive sequestering and locking away of various forms of material economy is called—has become very sophisticated and highly secretive. It is next to impossible to find out who “owns” this or that. The electronic trading and manipulation of a multitude of documents—some of which are “money” and others of which are deeds and bills, stocks and bonds, and contracts as well as innumerable other highly sophisticated documents, including the present epitome of sophistry, derivatives, which are so complex that hardly anyone understands what they are or how they actually work—has moved into a space in the ethers akin to Ancient Mysticism in which only the High Priests knew what was actually going, or more likely, not going, on.

This situation is simply a logical extension of the separative materialistic paradigm which has evolved this concept of economy. It is a modern, motivationally the same but with technologically updated methodology, manifestation of the ancient, mostly corrupt and evil Priesthood, complete with labyrinthine “Dark Towers” full of uncountable rooms and untraceable accounts which make it ever so much easier for those who operate in the dark to manipulate for their own self centered ends the uninformed others.

The Multidimensional View

Economy is a very different concept when viewed from the point of view of the new consciousness. From this holistic, multidimensional, group conscious point of view, we realize that we are not separated from the whole. We are not separate, independent individuals at constant war with every other separate individual for our self value and identity. We are in fact simultaneously both the whole and consciously interdependent individuals acting within the principles and laws which govern the Whole. From this point of view, a number of things become apparent and, several big illusions evaporate.

The first illusion to evaporate is the notion we call the ownership of property. A self conscious individual identifies with the dense forms energy takes. One actually assumes, quite without thinking about it, that one is one's belongings starting with one's physical body and extending to one's external surroundings, house, car, whatever. We have all seen a child clutch a doll or truck to his or her chest and say, with power, "MINE."

The group conscious parent will try to call out the child's innate sense of sharing. However, unless the parent is constantly vigilant and takes continuous measures to protect and nourish the child's inner knowledge, the emotional and mental impacts of a child's surroundings including other adults and children who are, by a very large percentage, unconsciously self conscious and the virtually continuous stream of self conscious media generated data will easily overwhelm the resources of most parents.

The child will grow up to be a "normal" adult who is identified with his or her body and belongings and consequently separated from the awareness of the truth of his or her interrelated reality. Furthermore, the now adult human will be thoroughly programmed to assume that ownership of property is as natural as sunlight, and that getting and spending and amassing property is the normal thing for a human to do. We have all heard the refrain, "The one who has the most toys at the end of the day, wins."

Ownership, the belief or assumption that one can exclusively possess or claim separate and exclusive rights to quantities of material substance of whatever kind, is a psychotic effect of the notion of the separated self. It is the height of irony that in this separative self consciousness paradigm, "normalcy" is actually a psychotic state.

The New consciousness

In the paradigm of the unfolding new consciousness, it is understood that the material world, including the planet and everything on it is only a very temporary, in the scope of time, manifestation or densification of energy and force into substance. Energy, force and substance are in constant motion, and the substance part of this triangle, the dense manifestation of the planet and everything on it, is constantly undergoing change in appearance.

Our scientists through the traditional science of analysis have demonstrated the facts of constant motion and change, down to the micro level of a quark, to exhaustion. On the dense macro level, the planetary changes that are being brought about by "global warming" are examples of this constant motion and change. These changes are big enough for even the most self conscious of us to see.

The Science of Synthesis

The group conscious individual understands through the science of synthesis the reality of additional dimensions of Life and the fact of the constant motion of energy, force and substance. He or she also understands that one does not “own” one’s body and things. We understand that because one is an integral and conscious non-separate part of the endless motion of Life, one does not own anything. One is rather responsible for nurturing and sharing for the sake of the Common Good the temporary vehicles which one inhabits and whatever objects or possessions may come into one’s temporary keeping.

This inborn and, once experienced and registered, incontrovertible sense of relationship of belonging to the whole which is characteristic of the group conscious individual, is basically the reunion of the Mother, the Feminine Principle—an intrinsic quality of Matter, or Mother, in which there is absolutely no notion of separation—with the Will of the Father. It is the re-union of the Father and Mother through Conscious awareness. As the ancient saying goes, “When thine “I” be single thy whole body will be full of Light.”

“Let us not forget that for each important achievement the Feminine Principle is essential as a foundation and essence.”

Heart #68 The self conscious paradigm, by creating the illusion of separation in the three worlds negates the Feminine Principle. The group conscious person reunites his or her humanity with this essential aspect of human life.

Another major aspect of the Big Lie or the Great Illusion which is key to the self conscious view of economy, is the distortion of abundance into lack. It is this sense of “not enough” which has been dinned into human ears for eons that fuels the separative illusion of ownership and drives the forces of competition and greed. It is this illusion upon which the temple of materialism is built. The reality, of course is that there is nothing but energy.

The fact of the interrelated multidimensional reality of all Life begins to become apparent from the new consciousness point of view. This new consciousness reveals the unity of Life, and not just the unity of the dense physical plane which the modern science of analysis has documented over and over again, but the interrelated unity of the higher dimensions of reality which the science of synthesis reveals.

Multidimensional Spheres

We are always looking for evidence of evolution, for the endings and beginning of cycles. And as might be expected, there are always innumerable indicators or harbingers of the Great Unfolding Truth. For example, the ongoing phenomena of the expansion of consciousness, from self to group, about which I have been talking, is an indicator of the beginnings of a potential new cycle. It signals the re-emergence, the return into human awareness from higher dimensions of the Life of the Spiritual Kingdom, the externalizing Hierarchy, the Reappearing Christ, and the Coming One.

In this kind of observation, the science of synthesis is most valuable. For example, realizing that endings and beginnings are not linear events but always happen within one another’s multidimensional spherical field of occurrence allows one to see signs of change that are otherwise not apparent. And, looking from this point of view, today the harbingers of change, indicators of both coming and passing cycles, are numerous.

Paralleling these obvious, to many, indicators visible on the dense physical plane are changes on the higher non-dense physical planes of human life. For example, assumptions and notions based on the self conscious paradigm regarding the nature of the “real” are undergoing massive shifts. Ancient thoughtforms—such as the valuing of a person according to the level of wealth he or she has amassed—which have controlled and blinded humanity for eons are being destroyed.

The ancient saying, “Truth will out.” is a not a quaint old saying, it is a fact of the science of synthesis.

Truth is. It is Life and Power. It is an omniscient, omnipresent unstopppable presence in every dimension of Life. As Truth Outs, consciousness is expanding from the prison house of the separative self into the freedom of unity and brotherhood. As the ancient thoughtforms are being destroyed, Truths which have been veiled by the forces of retrogression for centuries are beginning to emerge in the consciousness of millions.

The fact of the One Humanity and the intrinsic essential divinity of every individual is rapidly gaining realization and understanding in the mass mind. Likewise, the fact of the wholeness of the planet, of humanity’s unavoidable interrelated life with the animal, vegetable and mineral kingdoms is beginning to be recognized. These are indicators of the emergence of a possible new Era.

The science of synthesis is revealing this unity. It will soon be understood that it is humanity’s ignorance of its relationship with the Mineral Kingdom that has engendered the phenomena we call global warming. It will be our understanding of this interrelated reality and our normal role as stewards that will bring about the healing of our relationships with the lower kingdoms including the mineral.

Change which is, as you know, constant, only seems to happen in a flash. It is our myopic vision that makes it seem so. Life unfolds. It is, as I have said, unstoppable. Time is always on the side of unfolding Truth. Like a powerful river cutting its way through the planes, Truth will continue until it manifests its intrinsic beauty and perfect harmony in dense form. Thus we have, for example, the Grand Canyon.

And so, we have harbingers, harbingers both of the ending and of the beginning of changing cycles. It is difficult for humans, particularly self conscious humans, to see these messengers or recognize the signs of the approaching beginnings and ends even when they are physical and huge like global warming. I have mentioned a few of the harbingers of the coming cycle we call the Satya Yuga, the “new life, the age of great discoveries, the Era of Happiness....” Supermundane I #111

Humanity as we all know is blessed with free will. We are creators, or co-measurers. Because of this unavoidable fact of Life, there are, in the short term at any rate, no guarantees. Humanity must choose its own way forward.

I think it would be helpful, therefore, to draw attention to one or two additional signs, signs of what I think, what I hope with all the audacity and will power that I can muster are the ending of a very long cycle known as the Kali Yuga. I have mentioned already, global warming, and have laid the responsibility for this phenomena at the feet of human ignorance and, to be honest, which one must be if one is going to practice the science of synthesis, humanity's ages long romance with comfort and sloth.

Global warming is a massive indicator of change. That recognition and understanding of this approaching behemoth is still being doubted by the self conscious power centers of humanity is among the best evidence of the psychotic nature of self consciousness. However there are a couple of other huge harbingers of change that are also not being seen by the self conscious rulers as well as a large percentage of the 6.5 billion inhabitants of the planet.

The first one, every bit as massive and dangerous to human life on the planet as global warming, is so obvious that it is astounding that it has not been seen by the whole world for what it is. I am thinking about the unjust, preemptive, unconstitutional, lie launched war that the self conscious leaders of the United States with the sloth and greed driven complicity of many legislators and individuals, are waging in Iraq and threatening to spread to the entire world. This action is a macro example of the levels to which the psychosis of self consciousness has grown.

It is hard, given the tiny scope of the self absorbed focus of many folks, to see global issues. Maybe if we made the issue smaller, it would be more evident. So, if this war were enacted on a micro scale say between two neighbors, here is how it would look:

Mr. Duke is a member of the power elite, one of the "Have and Have Mores. He considers himself to be a superior being with a superior way of life to that of his neighbor who lives across the street.

Mr. Duke's neighbor also happens to have some stuff that Mr. Duke covets. Mr. Duke assumes that his neighbor, whom he hates, hates him too.

Mr. Duke's neighbor is much smaller and very much poorer than Mr. Duke. However, Mr. Duke is certain, despite the neighbor's numerous denials, that his neighbor is a threat to his life. Although he has never seen it, Mr. Duke imagines that his neighbor has a gun which he intends to use to kill Mr. Duke.

Mr. Duke says his neighbor will come in the night and kill us. To prevent this Mr. Duke gets his own, much bigger gun, runs across the street and kills his neighbor and a bunch of his kids and relatives too. Mr. Duke takes over his neighbor's house and gets whatever it was that he coveted.

It is obvious, or should be, that if such an event happened in the respectable, upscale, low crime town where I happen to live, or in many of the towns or cities in which any of you are living, Mr. Duke would be captured and placed in an institution for the insane.

In the micro scenario above, I have given the benefit of imaginary delusions to Mr. Duke. It is very possible that in the actual macro scenario which is the Iraq war, the rational for preemptive invasion was consciously and deliberately manufactured rather than imagined. This only makes the demonstration of psychotic behavior more ominous. However, no matter how you cut it, when one has the capacity to see on a larger scale than one's tiny town or neighborhood, it is clear that what we have in the Iraq war is psychotic behavior on a national and worldwide scale.

This action on the part of our leaders is a harbinger of enormous magnitude. It signals the end of something and the beginning of something. During the mere 6 or 7 thousand years of history that we know much about, time and time again, the Big Lie has threatened to engulf Humanity in its veils of The Dark Madness. In a brilliant visionary essay in 1946, Science, Liberty and Peace, in which he sees, among many other things, the coming horrors of a society built on oil and insists that non-violent action is the only way humanity can survive, Aldous Huxley sounded the warning quite clearly, "As Athens and Sparta died of flag waving and jingoism, so shall we die of flag waving and jingoism."

And so, once more we find ourselves on the brink of Madness. Yet, time and time again the Forces of Light have been able to rally the inner truth of humanity's soul. Through the focusing of our own free will toward principled living we have succeeded in throwing back the forces of the Darkness. As Master M has pointed out, "Not magic, but purified will sends into the world the command, "Let there be Light!" Supermundane 1 #30

Throughout ancient and modern times construction projects, some on truly colossal levels, have appeared in various places in the world. Frequently these marked the turning of an Age. Occasionally the project served some purpose for the common good like the construction of the rail and road networks in the United States and other countries or the development of space travel. Most often, however, the projects were demonstrations celebrating the supremacy and power of this or that King or Pharaoh or Emperor, or, in modern parlance, Tycoon.

There is, for example, a relatively "colossal" construction project going forward now in Dubai. When I first became aware of this project, I was struck by the timeliness of its appearance. We are clearly approaching a New Age, and this project http://www.bentbay.dk/dubai\_construction.htm is definitely an indicator of this change.

I have thought a lot about what this project symbolized. At first I thought of it as a portent of the future, but as I considered it, I began to see that it was really a reflection of the past, the ancient past. At first, I was impressed with its scope and ambition, but as I thought about it, rather than a pointer into humanity's future, it appeared as a kind of extrapolation of self consciousness rendered in architecture, a backwards pointer toward the Ages out of which humanity has crawled its way. It is an "If you got it, flaunt it." or to use the more genteel words of Thorstein Veblen an "ostentatious display of conspicuous consumption."

In thinking about this project, from the point of view of the science of synthesis, "Economy is the organization of the energy, force, and substance of any organized life into that activity which will manifest its purpose and plan...." it becomes clear that the will that is directing the energy, and force that manifested the project was not concerned with the common good of humanity, even remotely. The energy or economy that is building this very impressive city is clearly flowing from the common wealth of humanity through the pipelines of self consciousness into the manifestation of a grandiose display of personal power and wealth. A primary generator of the enormous stream of common wealth that is being directed into this project is quite clearly the Iraq war. The reapers of the estimated 2 trillion dollars for which the United States taxpayers have gone in debt in pursuing this war are by and large not the common wealth, not the 6.6 billion human beings who populate this planet.

Thinking about this project and the global warming phenomena. I began to get visions of ancient Atlantis before the flood. Also, Shelley's "Ozymandias", came to mind:
"My name is Ozymandias, King of Kings
Look on my works , ye Mighty and despair!
Nothing beside remains. Round the decay
Of the colossal Wreck, boundless and bare
The Lone and level sands stretch far away."

The Internet

There are, of course, numerous new construction projects on the planet that are pointers into the New Age and that are greatly beneficial to the common good, and are actual demonstrations of the Law of Economy. Not the least of these is the Internet. This is a construction project, still under way after 20 or so years, that dwarfs, by several magnitudes, any previous construction project that we know anything about in history. This project, which is the result of a group conscious direction of energy and force into the substance which we call the Internet, has become as omnipresent as the group conscious minds which collaborated to envision and build it.

Internet Ownership

The project is an early example of how economy directed by a group conscious humanity will manifest. It is the embodiment of cooperation and right sharing. Although under serious attack by the forces of retrogression, the Internet, it is very important to realize, is owned by nobody: no King, no Sheik, no Tycoon. It belongs to nobody and therefore belongs to everybody, to the One Humanity.

The Internet is an enormous contribution to the Common Wealth. In linking humanity together around the world, it brings into manifestation the simple and immediate access to the essential area of communication or human relationship that lies at the core of the law of right human relations. It, probably, more than any other single event in the past several centuries, is helping to reveal the fact of the one humanity and of humanity's essential divinity.

In closing this I want to mention one of many of the smaller building projects around the world, like Disney Hall in Los Angeles, that do point to humanity's future, do serve the common good and that are products of the new consciousness. There is William McDonough's Tangye New Town Concept Master Plan.

<http://www.mcdonoughpartners.com>

This is a project to build an entire city that will house 180,000 people. The project embraces McDonough's group conscious concept of Cradle to Cradle building rather than the old age, self conscious vision of Cradle to Grave, or the Gillette Blue Blade, use it once and throw it away, methodology. It is an example of what the group conscious builders build for humanity as we move into the New Age.

They will ask you how it is possible to reconcile the threatening signs of the destruction of the planet with the possibility of a harmonious and auspicious future. The fact is that humanity has a free choice, either to enter the new life, the age of great discoveries, the Era of Happiness, or, by the power of free will to choose catastrophe.
