It is service, first of all, that opens the path to realization of the Common Good. Neither garb nor ritual, but only service to humanity, is required. Supermundane 2 # 267

Emergence 2012

Loss of the true significance of concepts has contributed much to contemporary savagery. Community 47

It is wrong to think that Our Communications are without effect....We hasten to help you to complete your karmas in order to rid the speeding ship of unnecessary loads. At the destined date strain your ear to grasp every word of the Teacher. Agni Yoga, 118.

All the buzz (i.e., a veritable blizzard of thoughtforms which creates a mainly incoherent and indecipherable sound, like a bunch of bees, and is the result of multiple frenzied discussions, of all species of speculation from ignorant through curious to semi-informed, about an event that either has, is, or might be occurring.) in the various sectors of the relatively enlightened human communities concerns what has been called an approaching "event horizon" or shifting, or point of no return, or a "black hole". Although somewhat vague or fantastic, dire or wonderful, depending on the sector of the community with which one is talking, there is a universal sense that "something", something BIG as in GLOBAL, is coming, that is, will "happen" soon!

Something BIG as in GLOBAL, is coming, that is, will "happen" soon!

We all know that everything that "appears" on the dense physical is the result of some force of action that occurred on the more subtle planes. However, because of our habitual fixation on the dense physical (i.e., the past,) we are not able to see the unfolding nature of the processes of creation. When we wait around to see the dense physical 'evidence" of what we feel or think is coming, we are, as usual, looking at the past and trying to figure out what it means or is supposed to mean or even what it is.

In order to see what is approaching, we have to understand that when something manifests on the dense physical it has already happened. We can understand that if we want to be involved in the nature of what manifests, that is anything, from a baseball game, to a new car, to going to the movies, to the ending of war, we will have to become engaged long before the actual appearance of the thing on the dense physical.

Once seen from this point of view, we are no longer passively standing around waiting for whatever it is to get here. We begin to work with causes rather than effects. We become focused in the relative future. Some, a relatively tiny portion, of what was invisible becomes visible. We begin to be able to understand and work on some level with the forces and energies that are causing or driving or Willing manifestation. So we in a small way become co-creators with Cosmos. This is what the true role of the human being is meant to be.

As for this "coming something", which all but the sleep walkers sense, the best way that I can think of it is that it is a matter of balance or harmony or equilibrium. Master D.K. informs us that in the last days of the first Solar System there was one group which had "...never freed itself from the principles which governed the first solar system. They were principles entirely related to matter and substance, and were at that time and in that period (so remote that the number of years of distance can be stated only in super-astronomical figures) the conditioning factors for the initiation of the time. Certain units of humanity—then existent—were so completely conditioned by these material principles and so deliberately unready for moving on to the comprehension of another set of principles (more expressive of the divine nature) that they remained of "fixed and selfish material purpose" and a planned distortion of the divine will was intelligently created by them." The Rays and The Initiations P. 351

The "units of humanity" who "intelligently created" this distortion are still very much in evidence today. They are the Retrogressors.

These "planned distortions of divine will" which were inserted into the manifestation of this planet at the virtual beginning, have over the eons generated various distortions and manipulations of human consciousness which in turn have resulted in eons of selfish and ignorant activity on the part of humanity, causing the planet to go out of balance, out of harmony, or out of sync with the Divine Plan.

This particular thoughtform, which I think is a major part of the ancient "planned distortion of the divine will", outlines the basic nature of a human being. It comprises the basic, preordained internal programs that have driven all of the distorted and ignorant human actions in our eons and eons long pursuit of the meaning of our being, of the reason for existing, of personal value, of life, liberty, and happiness, of simply being alive.

This thoughtform houses a concept of a Cosmos of chaos and separation. This concept compels us, in spite of anything we may have heard about human "free will", to compete with and to endeavor through any means and at any cost to dominate and subjugate to our separate, selfish personal will, not only every other individual with whom we come in contact, but every other living thing on the planet.

The "units of humanity" who "intelligently created" this distortion are still very much in evidence today. They are the Retrogressors. As far as we can tell, over the eons this retrogressive position has been promulgated as reality by any number of self appointed influential persons: kings, emperors, advisors, soothsayers, wizards of various stripes, and in more recent times, scholars, academics, theologians, philosophers, economists, politicians, CEOs, and other "People of Quality". It has therefore over the eons become blindly or unconsciously, accepted as an indisputable fact by vast numbers of our brothers and sisters, even the intelligent and well educated ones.

I do not have any data on this, but it would not be surprising to discover that this distortion or Lie has to some degree and in some cases affected human DNA. Brain washing, you see, is a very ancient and sophisticated aspect of the "planned distortion" and the implementing methodology used by the Retrogressors.

It is easy for an individual who still has present and working that part of the brain which processes the common sense algorithms (for example, "If it is poison, do not drink or eat it.") to see that such a position has generated and will continue to generate endless war. Whenever a person or group who has been brainwashed in this way meets with resistance, he or she and their respective followers will go to any ends to impose it on others.

There has always been, and as long as this concept of human nature controls human beings, there always will be a group somewhere that is certain that their way or truth or value is superior to some other group's truth or value, and they will not rest until they either dominate or are dominated. Think of the Crusades, the Inquisition, Hitler. This is the seed bed of war and death and its hideous effects: famine, pestilence, homelessness, and now that we possess atomic weapons and hugely lethal poison gasses, eventually oblivion or extinction.

It is essential that we note the fact of our presence. We are still here. We are not slaves. We are still triumphant.

This distortion of divine will is often given credence and rationality as observable fact by its followers by pointing to the record of the bleak history of our slaughter of one another and the planet. "We have always behaved thus." "It is human nature!" Using the results of the lie to prove the lie, this ancient thoughtform of incoherence blankets our relationships with each other and the planet. It is the core, the root thoughtform whose offspring are all those thoughtforms which in the ancient language were labeled the Seven Deadly Sins.

This thoughtform lies at the root of the notion of original sin, of our unworthiness, inadequacy, self disgust. It is the source of discouragement, despair. It is the nest from which crawls that sense of hopelessness which seizes various of our brothers and sisters. It saps their strength and thus, destroying their ability to strive into the Light, renders them slaves or, as the ancient language characterizes them, "prisoners of the planet."

It is also the root energy of fanaticism in all its many forms. It generated the distortions and delusions of personal power that led directly to systems of government such as the Divine Right of Kings, Emperors, Sultans, Khans, Popes, Chosen Ones, the Elect. It is observable in the actions of the modern versions of religious fanatics who condemn women to an inhuman status or entire races to slavery. Today, replacing the Kings and such, we have the Superman, the CEOs, the so called Job Creators, all of whom are made to appear respectable and just, as they stalk across history costumed in robes of material splendor, consuming the Light, butchering millions, and trying to enslave the rest.

Human history is a very long story, and one could go on here for some time. In the face of this history of lots of horrid stuff, it is essential that we note the fact of our presence. We are still here. We are not slaves. We are still triumphant. It is very evident that we presently have a planet that is, once again, seriously out of balance or harmony with the Divine Will. However, we know, from eons of perseverance and triumph, that we can fix it.

Besides, we have come to realize that we can be co-creators and that we have a lot of help. Cosmos, for example, is not that excited about being out of balance. In apparent fact, Cosmos finds imbalance, discord, incoherence, to be intolerable and moves to restore balance to any system. We have all heard of the Lords of Karma. Witness, for example, Atlantis. So, it is apparent, again to all but the heartless sleepwalkers, that balance is not going to be restored, but is being restored.

Our function, as awake, aware, and loving human beings is, consciously and wholeheartedly, to take up our role as co-creators and help to bring the planet back into harmony with the divine plan. We can, if we Will, be partners in the reconstruction of the planet.

I am not thinking of reconstruction on the dense physical, rebuilding towns and cities after some hurricane wipes them out or a tidal wave wipes out an atomic reactor. That is all good work and there are plenty of brothers and sisters willing and able to do that. I am thinking of reconstruction projects that work more in the relative future, before the hurricanes and tidal waves and bank robberies happen.

As people who are somewhat informed regarding the creative process, we know that energy follows thought. We also know that thoughtforms are generated by the concepts, attitudes, beliefs, and assumptions that are being given house or lodging, usually quite without the landlord's awareness, within an individual's mind. The vast majority of the selfish, ignorant, destructive activity that has caused the imbalance to appear in the planet's field is being generated by the dominant thoughtform regarding the basic nature of being human that I have described above.

In opposition to this concept of a Cosmos of meaningless chaos, of selfishness and separation, we have the concept of unity, of love and beauty, of harmony and law. It is true that human history is covered with gore, with suffering and death. However, this is a superficial view. A deeper view, one that looks for and sees the evolution that has gone forward even in the depths of the revolutions of chaos reveals the true nature of the human being. We have many ancient stories about the Heroes who gave everything for the Common Good.

Prometheus comes to mind as do Socrates and Pythagoras and a long, long list of others both well known and never heard of outside of their immediate areas of service to the Common Good.

Over the centuries such men and women both individuals and groups have come forward and by their lives have, in spite of the best efforts of the Retrogressors, enabled the race to evolve. In the vast majority of cases these heroes of courage and heart were eliminated by the forces of the Retrogressors. Mostly they were simply murdered, but many were made public victims and examples of the cost of going against the Retrogressors. The story of the crucifixion of Jesus comes to mind.

Think of reconstruction projects that work more in the relative future, before the hurricanes and tidal waves and global bank robberies happen

These murders and intimidations have never been able to stop that inner drive of another set of basic, preordained internal programs which I think every human being that is born carries in his or her DNA. These are the programs of the divine will. These programs have in many cases been dumbed down or overwritten by the Retrogressors' programs of brainwashing and chaos. Many, many millions of us, however, have struggled free from that prison of despair. Consciousness has continued to evolve, and we know about the strength of unity and love.

Harmony, balance, Joy, synchronicity—the circle of life and beauty is everywhere evident in Cosmos. Everywhere in the natural world of our planet human nature is synchronous with the nature of all other aspects of Cosmos which is also documentable by reference to human history going back the beginning.

Our responsibility as people who are somewhat informed regarding the creative process is to energize and manifest this view of human nature. We are meditators. Energy follows thought. We are thinkers. We “understand that the word is the pedal of thought; that each word is a thunder-bearing arrow.” Community 47 Through all of history runs the golden thread of divine will which has over the countless ages sustained us and brought us to this point of decision.

In the Destiny of the Nations, D.K. pointed out with great clarity that “It is as one humanity, chastened and disciplined but illuminined and fused, that we must emerge into the future.” This is the only door into the future for us. Human free will is the issue. We must choose the Golden Path into the Light and thus through a demonstration of our true inner nature we destroy the thoughtform of darkness forever and proceed into the future.

Harmony, balance, Joy, synchronicity—the circle of life and beauty is everywhere evident in Cosmos.

There is no book of procedures. There is no list of ten things you can do. There is only you and me, our brothers, our sisters, the determined will of our beating hearts and the ways in which we walk and think and breathe and will the Good.
